organized by

Department of MCA

Date: 19th September 2025

Venue: Makkala Dhama

Brief Description of the Event

Introduction

As part of its continued commitment to social responsibility and student engagement, the Department of MCA organized a social outreach activity titled “Festival of Sharing” at Makkala Dhama, Bengaluru on 19th September 2025. This initiative was carried out by Third Semester MCA students with the aim of spreading joy, compassion, and togetherness through the act of sharing essential groceries and spending meaningful time with the children.

Makkala Dhama is a multi-dimensional development centre that shelters and educates around 450 girl children in need of care, protection, and educational support. This outreach activity focused on building empathy, kindness, and a sense of community among students while bringing happiness to the children.

Objectives of the Visit

- To encourage a culture of sharing and compassion among students.
- To provide essential groceries and support to children at Makkala Dhama.
- To foster social awareness and empathy through direct engagement with underprivileged children.

- To strengthen community relations and social responsibility within the student community.

Expected Outcomes

- Empathy and Compassion: Students developed a sense of gratitude, humility, and responsibility towards society.
- Community Engagement: Strengthened collaboration between the institution and the local community.
- Emotional Growth: Students gained a deeper understanding of the importance of service and humanity.
- Joyful Interaction: The children experienced a memorable day filled with affection and warmth.

Details of the Institution Visited

Name: Makkala Dhama

Location: Bengaluru, Karnataka

Type: Development Centre for girl children in need of care and protection

Capacity: Approximately 450 children

Purpose: Shelter, education, and overall development

Activities Conducted

- Distribution of Groceries: Students contributed and distributed essential grocery items to support the daily needs of the children at Makkala Dhama.
- Interactive and Fun Sessions: Third Semester MCA students engaged the children through interactive games, songs, and storytelling sessions to create a joyful and inclusive environment.
- Motivational Interaction: Students shared inspiring thoughts and encouraged the children to pursue their dreams with confidence and optimism.

- Group Engagement: Teams of MCA students interacted personally with the children, spending quality time through drawing, sharing snacks, and light conversation to make them feel valued and cared for.

Student Participation

Third Semester MCA students actively participated in planning and executing the outreach event. They took collective responsibility for fundraising, grocery organization, activity coordination, and engaging with the children.

Feedback and Reflections

From Makkala Dhama Staff: The staff expressed heartfelt gratitude for the students' thoughtful gesture and their genuine enthusiasm. They appreciated the spirit of sharing and noted the positive energy the students brought to the children.

From MCA Students: Students described the experience as humbling and eye-opening. They reflected on the joy of giving and the importance of connecting with the community beyond academic life.

Conclusion

The social outreach activity “Festival of Sharing” successfully embodied the values of empathy, kindness, and community spirit. The event not only brightened the day for the children at Makkala Dhama but also enriched the students with a sense of fulfillment and social consciousness.

The Department of MCA aims to continue such initiatives, encouraging students to contribute meaningfully to society and uphold the true spirit of humanity.
